

Bryan Bayer: “Out of the Box” Dating & Relationship Expert

Bryan offers an out-of-the box “deeper cut” on dating & relationships. He’s co-founder of the Authentic Man Program™, a weekend course for men to blow the doors open on their relating with women by receiving honest, no-holds-barred, in-the-moment feedback from a team of razor-sharp women on where they’re “screwing it up” with the fairer sex!

For the past 6 years, Bryan has coached hundreds of people to success in the arenas of dating, relationship and communication, and now leads a team of 12 dating & relationship coaches as co-founder and CEO of AuthenticWorld™, an organization committed to fostering authentic, flourishing, rewarding relationships.

Drawing from a background in developmental psychology, NLP, and an intensive study of man/woman dynamics, Bryan and his team have hosted their own weekly talk show, given dozens of radio interviews, lectured at Stanford University, participated in “reality” TV shows, and led over 40 sellout workshops and seminars throughout the U.S. and abroad.

His flagship program, the Authentic Man Program™, is a weekend course that has paved the way for hundreds of men transforming their lives and stepping into being the most badass, unapologetically openhearted, sexually expressed men they can be through getting honest, no-holds-barred feedback from a team of highly-trained, razor-sharp, radiant women.

His first book is due out in the fall of 2008.
